

SEX AND RELATIONSHIP EDUCATION POLICY (SRE)

What is Sex and Relationship Education (SRE)

Effective sex and relationship education is essential if young people are to make responsible and well informed decisions about their lives. It should not be delivered in isolation. It should be firmly rooted within the framework for PSHE and the National Curriculum launched in September 1999, which lie at the heart of our policy to raise standards and expectations for all pupils.

The objective of sex and relationship education is to help and support young people through their physical, emotional and moral development. A successful programme, firmly embedded in PSHE, will help young people learn to respect themselves and others and move with confidence from childhood through adolescence into adulthood.

Slindon College is an independent College working with boys who have additional needs aged between 8 and 18 years, who are drawn from diverse social, ethnic and religious backgrounds. This policy was developed with careful consideration to Sex and Relationship Education Guidance DfES 2020 as well as local authority and national guidelines.

What is the SRE Policy

In this document we will outline the aims of Slindon College's SRE education, how we will address these aims and the process by which we will evaluate how successfully we achieve these aims and update the following SRE education lessons.

Principles and values

Slindon College believes that SRE should:

- Be an integral part of the lifelong learning process, beginning in early childhood and continue into adult life and an entitlement for all young people
- Encourage every pupil to contribute to make our community strong and aims to support each individual as they grow and learn.
- Encourage every pupil to find ways to develop and celebrate self-esteem.
- Be set within this wider school context and supports family commitment and love, respect and affection, knowledge and openness. Family is a broad concept; not just one model. It includes a variety of types of family structure, and acceptance of different approaches.
- Encourage pupils and teachers to share and respect each other's views. We are aware of different approaches to sexual orientation, without promotion of any particular family structure. The important values are love, respect, safe choices and care for each other.

- Allow time to discuss and educate about the impact of technology on pupil attitudes and knowledge including tablets, mobile phones and social media sources. At the same time we encourage the safe use of technology in line with our electronic device policy.
- Generate an atmosphere where questions and discussion on sexual matters can take place without any stigma or embarrassment.
- Recognise that parents/carers are the key people in teaching their children about sex, relationships and growing up and consult them about the content of programmes.
- Recognise that the wider community has much to offer and we aim to work in partnership with health professionals, social workers, peer educators and other mentors or advisers.

Sex and Relationship Education in this school has three main elements

Attitudes and values

- Learning the importance of values, individual conscience and moral choices
- Learning the value of family life as well as stable and loving relationships
- Learning about the nurture of children
- Learning the value of respect, love and care
- Exploring, considering and understanding moral dilemmas
- Developing critical thinking as part of decision-making
- Challenging myths, misconceptions and false assumptions about normal behaviour

Personal and social skills

- Learning to manage emotions and relationships confidently and sensitively
- Developing self-respect and empathy for others
- Learning to make choices with an absence of prejudice
- Developing an appreciation of the consequences of choices made
- Managing conflict
- Empower pupils with the skills to be able to avoid inappropriate pressures or advances (both as exploited or exploiter)

Knowledge and understanding

- Learning and understanding physical development at appropriate stages
- Understanding human sexuality, reproduction, sexual health, emotions and relationships

- Learning about contraception and the range of local and national sexual health advice, contraception and support services
- Learning the reasons for delaying sexual activity, and the benefits to be gained from such delay
- The avoidance of unplanned pregnancy

Aims

The aim of SRE is to provide balanced factual information about human reproduction, together with consideration of the broader emotional, ethical, religious, and moral dimensions of sexual health. Our SRE programme aims to prepare pupils for an adult life in which they can:

- Develop positive values and a moral framework that will guide their decisions, judgements and behaviour; have the confidence and self-esteem to value themselves and others and respect for individual conscience and the skills to judge what kind of relationship they want.
- Understand the consequences of their actions and behave responsibly within sexual and pastoral relationships.
- Avoid being exploited or exploiting others or being pressured into unwanted or unprotected sex.
- Communicate effectively by developing appropriate terminology for sex and relationship issues.
- Develop awareness of their sexuality and understand human sexuality; challenge sexism and prejudice, and promote equality and diversity
- Understand the arguments for delaying sexual activity and the reasons for not having unprotected sex .
- Have sufficient information and skills to protect themselves and, where they have one, their partner from uninvited/unwanted conceptions and sexually transmitted infections including HIV.
- Be aware of sources of help and acquire the skills and confidence to access confidential health advice, support and treatment if necessary
- Know how the law applies to sexual relationships.

Organisation and Content of Sex and Relationship Education

Slindon College specifically delivers Sex and Relationship Education through its PSHE and some Science lessons at KS2,KS3 and KS4. KS5 runs through external providers. It is jointly organised by the science teacher and the PSHE co-ordinator.

Inclusion

We intend our policy to be sensitive to the needs of different ethnic groups. We will respond to parental requests and concerns. This will be of particular importance in relation to Pupil Premium pupils as well as our pupils with Special educational needs, be it physical or learning. We will refer pupils to specialist support where we deem it appropriate. We aim to deal sensitively and honestly with issues of sexual orientation, answer appropriate questions and offer support. Young people, whatever their developing sexuality need to feel that sex and relationship education is relevant to them.

Parent/carer role & right of withdrawal of pupils from Sex and Relationship Education

The College is aware that the primary role in young people's sex and relationships education lies with parents and carers. We wish to build a positive and supportive relationship with the parents and carers of young people at our school through mutual understanding, trust and co-operation. Parents have the right to withdraw their child from part of the sex and relationships education, but not that part covered in the statutory Science curriculum. If a parent wishes their child to be withdrawn from any aspect of sex and relationship education, they should discuss this with the Headmaster, and make it clear which aspects of the programme they do not wish their child to participate in. The school always complies with the wishes of parents in this regard and will provide appropriate sources of information for parents who wish to withdraw their children.

Confidentiality, controversial and sensitive issues

Teachers cannot offer unconditional confidentiality. Teachers are not legally bound to inform parents or the Headmaster of any disclosure unless the Headmaster has specifically requested them to do so. Teachers, in line with best practice will implement a Working Agreement with their class of pupils. If the teacher has concerns, they will draw their concerns to the attention of the College's Designated Safeguarding Lead and/or Headmaster. The College's Designated Safeguarding Lead will deal with Child Protection matters in consultation with the Education Safeguarding Team, Children and Families and health care professionals (see also Safeguarding Policy). Other support agencies working within the school classroom context are governed by the College's Visiting Speakers policy, although health professionals such as school counsellors/nurses will be bound by their professional confidentiality guidelines. In a case where a teacher learns from an under 16 year old that they are having or contemplating sexual intercourse:

- The young person will be persuaded, wherever possible, to talk to parent/carer and if necessary to seek medical advice.
- Child protection issues will be considered under the College's procedures.

- The young person will be properly counselled about contraception, including information about where young people can access contraception and advice services.
- In any case where child protection procedures are followed, the teacher will ensure that the young person understands that if confidentiality has to be broken, they will be informed first.
- Health professionals in school are bound by their codes of conduct in a one-to-one situation with an individual pupil, but in a classroom situation they must follow the College's confidentiality policy.

Dealing with inappropriate sexual behaviour

Inappropriate sexual behaviour can include:

- Inappropriate touching
- Sexting i.e. sharing of inappropriate images
- Cyberbullying
- Upskirting

All staff, as well as the PSHE team, are regularly updated on local and national issues related to SRE and best practice approaches. This includes raising concerns about inappropriate sexual behaviour, and who to go to for this information, so that it can be addressed.
